Welcome!

Add new users (Optional)

Open http://<host-ip>:8080/secure/admin/user/UserBrowser.jspa

Working alone isn't much fun, so let's add some test users to your Jira Core site. You can add users directly, or allow new users to sign up themselves. In this step in the tutorial, you'll add three users directly to your site.

Add a few users

You will be adding new user. You can add more or choose your own usernames if you like, but please note that we will be referring to these usernames later in the tutorials. You can always disable or delete any users you set up.

If you've logged out of Jira Core, log in with the administrator account you created.

1. Navigate to the User Management screen by selecting Administration (⚙) > User management.
2. Choose Create User to add a new user. Specify the username as "fenago". Set the rest of the fields to whatever you want.
